A young, vibrant, and promising corporate law consultant is Mr. Nishit Popat. After earning a degree in commerce in 2013, enrolled in a post-graduation program in commerce and the Company Secretary course.

After earning his M.Com. degree in 2015, he entered the business world that same year as a proprietorship-based corporate law consultant. His company provides corporate services to both new businesses and young entrepreneurs, as well as to well-known, established corporations.

Following a prosperous career as a corporate consultant, he began to specialize in corporate law, particularly the Companies Act, Labor Law, SEBI Laws, IPR Laws, FEMA, RBI, and so on. However, he accomplished his goal too quickly. Besides the aforementioned, his primary areas of expertise include appearing before quasi-judicial authorities and liaising with different government authorities.

He is proficient in a number of other areas, including financial management, project management, marketing, investments, production and operations, risk and quality management, soft and behavioral skills, etc. In addition to his work as a professional advisor, panel member, and independent Director in various corporates / Entities.

As the Chief Operating Officer and Finance Manager of one of the main board listed company, he is currently spearheading key management initiatives and overseeing financial operations to drive business growth and profitability.
